

Wells Cathedral Statement

September 2017

The Cathedral accepts bookings from a range of organisations for the use of its space and the Dean and Chapter agreed to let M11 use the Cathedral to film a small element of the forthcoming feature film, Hellboy 3.

We realise that the idea of this filming may cause concern with some people who aren't familiar with the stories and character. Hellboy originated, in fact, as a superhero in a series of novels created by Mike Mignola. His true nature is one of a hero and he becomes a defender against the forces of darkness.

The eternal battle of good over evil which this story examines helps us to encourage an intelligent faith which does not hide from controversy and one that looks for the good inside people no matter their outward appearance.
